Identity and Identification in a Networked World
A Multidisciplinary Graduate Student Symposium

September 29-30, 2006
Furman Hall
245 Sullivan Street
New York University School of Law

Program

Friday, September 29
1:00p – 2:30p   Keynote: DRM & the Automation of Virtue
Furman 216   Prof. Ian Kerr, University of Ottawa
(lunch will be provided)

2:30p – 4:00p   Student Panel: Emerging Technologies & Impacts
Furman 216   The Nexus of Intellectual Privacy and Copyright
Alex Cameron, Faculty of Law, University of Ottawa
Copyright Contraband
Eddan Katz, Information Society Project, Yale Law School
Privacy and Identity: Technologies of identification and shifting boundaries, autonomy, and public-private tensions in a digital world
Lorraine Kisselburgh, Media, Technology, and Society, Purdue University
Should libraries continue their transition to RFID tags in circulating items, considering governmental interest (a la the USA Patriot Act) in patron records?
Olivia Nellums, Library & Information Science, Syracuse University

4:00p – 4:30p   Break

4:30p – 6:15p   Student Panel: Identity and the State
Furman 216   Before the law - Questioning Kafka in the Face of E-Government
Christoph Engemann, Graduate School of Social Sciences, University of Bremen, Germany
Our border is not your border: An analysis of the UK's e-Border system
Mathew Kabatoff, BIOS Centre, London School of Economics and Political Science
Panopticism vis-à- vis criminal records: some socio-legal implications
Verónica Piñero, Faculty of Law, University of Ottawa
Is There a Place for MySpace?: The Admissibility of Social Website Content Under the Federal Rules of Evidence
Stacey Schesser, Boalt Hall School of Law, UC-Berkeley
Wherever You Go, There you Are
Anne Uteck, Faculty of Law, University of Ottawa

6:30p – 8:30p   Reception

Saturday, September 30
9:00a – 9:30a   Light breakfast
Furman 210

9:30a – 10:45a   Student Panel: Identity Construction
Furman 210   Fitting identities into preset boxes: reflections on the case of medical records
Valentina Lichtner, PhD, Centre for HCI Design, City University, London
The rewards of identity: Pursuing and targeting consumer surveillance

Jason Pridmore, Sociology, Queen's University, Ontario, Canada
Space 2 B me: A thesis on teen identity construction in instant messenger
Evelyn Grooten, New Media and Digital Culture, Utrecht University, Netherlands

10:45a – 11:15a Break

11:15a – 12:30p Student Panel: Social Networks
Furman 210   The Cost of (Anti-)Social Networks: Identity, Agency and Neo-Luddites
       Ryan Bigge, Communication and Culture, York/Ryerson University, Toronto
       Writing Friendship Into Being: Group Identity in MySpace
       danah boyd, School of Information, University of California – Berkeley
       Identity within Social Networks: The Creation of freeFormed.org
       Megan MacMurray, Nanna Halinen, Catherine Colman, Jungmin Oh and Yonatan Kelib, Interactive Telecommunications Program, NYU

12:30p – 1:00p Demonstration: TrackMeNot
Furman 210   Helen Nissenbaum & Michael Zimmer

1:00p – 2:00p Lunch

2:00p – 2:30p Keynote: The Emerging Age of Who
Furman 214   Dick Hardt, Founder & CEO, Sxip Identity

2:30p – 4:00p Student Panel: Identity Management
Furman 214   Managing Identities and Moral Identification
       Noemi Manders-Huits, Delft University of Technology, Netherlands
       Selling Your Self: Examining the Ethics of Identity 2.0
       Alice Marwick, Culture & Communication, NYU
       Position Paper: Identity in health care
       Michael May, Computer Science, University of Pennsylvania School of Engineering and Applied Sciences
       Toward an Archival Approach to Digital Identity Management
       Fred Stutzman, Information and Library Science, University of North Carolina

Organizers:

Tim Schneider, JD student, NYU School of Law
Michael Zimmer, Ph.D. candidate, NYU Department of Culture & Communication
Faculty advisor: Helen Nissenbaum, NYU Department of Culture & Communication

Program Committee:

Martin Galese, JD student, NYU School of Law
Alice Marwick, PhD student, NYU Department of Culture & Communication
Joseph Reagle, PhD student, NYU Department of Culture & Communication
Jessica Shimmin, PhD student, NYU Department of Culture & Communication
Aaron Williamson, JD student, NYU School of Law

Thanks to our Sponsors:

National Science Foundation PORTIA Grant CCR-0331640
Microsoft Corporation
NYU Council for Media and Culture
Department of Culture and Communication, Steinhart School, NYU
Information Law Institute, NYU School of Law