NEW YORK UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW CLASS OF 2010 GRADUATION GIFT

AS WE GRADUATE FROM ONE OF THE WORLD’S PREEMINENT CENTERS OF legal education, we feel proud of what we have achieved here and what NYU School of Law has accomplished. Even during our brief tenure, we have seen what great strides have taken place: high-level visits from abroad, including various heads of state; frequent events that bring together alumni and students to address the current salient issues affecting the law and society; as well as the expansion of our Law School campus with the completion of 22 Washington Square North and Wilf Hall.

In 2004, NYU School of Law’s graduating students formalized an important tradition of giving back to our school by creating a class graduation gift. This annual tradition is now our responsibility. NYU School of Law has a significantly smaller endowment than our peer institutions. While a portion of the operating expenses of the Law School are covered by tuition and fees, the rest of the expenses must be covered by charitable giving. Vital programs such as LRAP, PILC grants and financial aid, as well as day-to-day expenses such as library maintenance, student journals and faculty salaries, depend on the support of our donors. If our goal is to lead other top-tier schools, we must show our support to the programs that make this institution great.

Our participation signals to the entire NYU community—across the generations—and to the community at large our appreciation for the experiences we have had. More important, it indicates that we are willing to make a tangible contribution to the future of the Law School, even before we leave its halls. Accordingly, our total gift will include not only donations that are given this year but also pledges for annual gifts until our fifth-reunion year. With our help, the Law School will continue to thrive as an institution.

What follows is a list to date of contributors to the class graduation gift. While carrying on the tradition of inviting fellow classmates to become members of the Weinfeld Program, the Law School’s distinguished donor group, we welcome our new Weinfeld Fellows. We encourage our remaining classmates to join in the effort. The opportunity to participate is available until August, and every gift is essential.

On behalf of the Law School, we, the Class of 2010 Graduation Gift Committee, would like to thank all our classmates who have supported our campaign thus far. It is your generous commitment and enthusiasm that allow us to continue this important legacy.

YOUR LAW SCHOOL AFFILIATION DOESN'T END TODAY

Every NYU School of Law graduate will be given a permanent Law School e-mail address. Your new Law School address will be automatically created for you in the format `firstname.lastname@law.nyu.edu`. This address will be added to your existing NYUHome account, which includes your `netid@nyu.edu` and `personaladdress@nyu.edu` addresses. You can access e-mails sent to `firstname.lastname@law.nyu.edu` from your NYUHome account, or you can set the address to forward to any other address you use.

Other great ways to stay in touch include entering your contact information in the Online Law Alumni Directory: www.law.nyu.edu/alumni/directory, keeping up to date with your classmates by visiting Class Notes: www.law.nyu.edu/alumni/classnotes and attending your reunion or one of our many Law School events throughout the year.
