

Announcing the $10,000 Grunin Prize Design Challenge

An Exciting Scholarship Opportunity for NYU Students

The Grunin Center for Law and Social Entrepreneurship is looking for a great design idea for the inaugural Grunin Prize, which will recognize the ways in which lawyers are helping for-profit and not-for-profit businesses advance the goals of sustainability and human development. Use your creativity to design a medallion, plaque, trophy, or anything else that embodies the spirit of the Grunin Prize. The top design, as chosen by a selection jury, will win a $10,000 scholarship.

Who's Eligible: Current NYU students with at least one year of study remaining after June 2018.

How to Enter: Visit law.nyu.edu/grunin-entry and fill out the live application by January 31, 2018.

About the Grunin Center: The center fosters the development of a robust community of legal practitioners working on issues of law and social entrepreneurship. The inaugural Grunin Prize will be presented in June 2018 at the annual IILWG/Grunin Center conference, "Legal Issues in Social Entrepreneurship and Impact Investing—in the US and Beyond" at NYU School of Law.
