You must activate your NYU School of Law e-mail account. You may forward mail from your NYUHome account to another e-mail account or from another e-mail account to your NYUHome account. The Law School often sends important e-mails to particular students or groups of students. These will be sent to your NYUHome account. It is your responsibility to make sure this account is activated.

→ Activate your NYU School of Law email account at:
start.nyu.edu

Student Contact Information

Students are required to log on to Albert, the University's registration and student information system, to provide and keep current all contact information including address, phone numbers, and any other biographical information requested. Failure to provide this information could delay our ability to contact you in the event of emergency or to certify students for local bar examinations.

→ Log on to Albert at:
home.nyu.edu/academics

ABRA and Registration

Registration is a two-part process: the bidding period and the add/drop period. An automated bidding algorithm enrolls students in courses based on the number of points bid for courses and a fixed set of criteria described in the Year-Long Registration Guide. Registering for the entire year during the summer requires careful planning and attention to dates, deadlines, and bidding selections as well as the results of the bidding cycles.

→ Register via ABRA at:
abra.law.nyu.edu/abra

Symplicity

Symplicity Career Services Manager (CSM) enhances how information is shared between students and employers. CSM provides a wide variety of resources, including job postings, announcements, informational workshops, reporting functions, and mentoring opportunities for NYU School of Law students and alumni.

→ Register via Symplicity CSM at:
law-nyu-csm.symplicity.com/students/

COMMUNICATE WITH FELLOW STUDENTS

NYU Law Classifieds - Coming Soon

NYU Law Classifieds will be a new platform that will enhance the methods in which students and alumni can exchange various types of information (e.g., announcements, activities, goods, services, etc.). This new site will likely launch in early Fall semester. Stay tuned for additional information!

Student Group Listservs

Student groups generally communicate with their members through listservs. To join listservs of interest to you, log into NYUHome. Under the "Lists" tab, click on the hyperlink that says "Browse and Subscribe to an NYU List." You can also join student listservs by contacting student group leaders directly. For an in-depth list of our current student groups, please refer to page 31 of this guide.

COMMUNICATE WITH ADMINISTRATORS

The Docket

The Docket is a weekly email that you will receive each Monday. The Docket contains communications from the various Law School administrative offices. It is extremely important that you diligently read this weekly missive as it contains information about important deadlines and upcoming events throughout the Law School. The full Docket can also be found at blogs.law.nyu.edu/docket.

Various Departmental Emails/Announcements

Although we strongly encourage all administrators to communicate via The Docket instead of mass emails, from time to time administrative emails may be necessary, particularly when targeted to a subset of the student population.

COMMUNICATE WITH THE LAW COMMUNITY

The Law School Calendar

The Law School Calendar at its.law.nyu.edu/eventcalendar is an online schedule of events and activities taking place at the Law School. You may view events by date or by category (e.g., academic calendar, housing, students, global, etc.). You may also submit events to the calendar. Students can view this online calendar on the flat screens in the various student lounges.

Events This Week at NYU Law is a complement to The Docket and lists all events for that particular week automatically drawn from the Law School Calendar.

The Law School Magazine

NYU School of Law's annual magazine, published each fall, has in-depth features on notable alumni or faculty members, academic areas, and pressing issues of our time. The magazine also publishes scholarly excerpts and news-length stories on the Law School's faculty, scholarship, programs, students, alumni, news, and events. The editorial staff welcomes story ideas and news. Please email law.magazine@nyu.edu.

The Office also serves as students' principal source of information on federal and private loan programs, debt management strategies, credit counseling, loan repayment, and outside funding opportunities.

The Office seeks to educate students and alumni about the financial aid process and how to thoughtfully manage law school debt. Workshops are scheduled throughout the year on topics such as budgeting, financial planning, loan consolidation, LRAP, and traditional entrance and exit counseling.

The staff is available to assist in resolving problems with lenders, guarantors, and federal or state agencies. The Office of Student Affairs offers a tutoring program for students who are struggling academically or who have missed a substantial amount of class time because of illness or other personal problems.

- Our free, confidential tutoring service is open to JD and Graduate students who have demonstrated need for tutoring.
- These sessions are designed to assist students who are experiencing specific difficulties in a particular subject, but we can sometimes assist with general skills such as exam-taking or outlining.
- Tutors are fellow students who have demonstrated academic excellence in the area(s) they tutor, and whenever possible, students are assigned to tutors who had the same professor for the course being tutored.
- Tutoring takes place at mutually convenient times, usually 2-3 hours per week.
- Due to the limited number of available tutors, students may request tutoring for a maximum of two courses.

Please note: because we rely on student volunteers to act as tutors, we may not be able to assign a tutor in every case. We will make every effort to do so. Requests for tutors in more advanced classes can be difficult to fulfill. If a tutor is not available, we encourage you to speak with your professor and her or his teaching assistant about your specific difficulties.

In addition, the Office of Student Affairs coordinates programs and workshops designed to help you succeed in your studies and enhance your academic skillsets. The Office of Student Affairs has created the Prominence Fund to help supplement the expenses of SBA-recognized student groups and individual students in connection with certain important activities. The creation of this Fund stems from the recognition that the efforts of our students have a great impact on the outside community's perception of the Law School.

The Prominence Fund aids student groups in two ways. First, it supplements expenses connected with sending representatives to conferences. Second, it supplements expenses connected with participation in moot court-type competitions. Prominence Fund monies will only be available to students who are presenting papers, participating in a panel or workshop, playing a substantial role at a conference, or competing in a moot court.*

The fund will cover a percentage of the cost of travel, lodging, and registration. Food costs will not be covered. Once funding is approved, students are expected to make the initial outlay of money for the activity and then submit receipts and proof of travel for reimbursement.**

Students who accept funding must agree to make a full report to their group/organization upon their return and must submit a written report on the Conference/Competition to the Office of Student Affairs at the time that receipts are submitted.

How To Apply For Prominence Funding:

LAW JOURNALS AND THE MOOT COURT BOARD 38

Student/Faculty Committees

STUDENT/FACULTY COMMITTEES

Each year, students are appointed by the Board of Governors of the SBA, the Dean, and faculty to serve on the various Student/Faculty Committees. Unless otherwise noted, students are full voting members of the committees, and Student Representatives are appointed to one-year terms. Student Representatives are expected to attend the meetings of the Faculty Committees and to work closely with the SBA to act in the best interest of students. Student Representatives are also required to report to the SBA Board of Governors on a regular basis regarding the status of the committee and any actions taken by the committee.

The following are brief descriptions of some of the various Student/Faculty Committees. Most of these committees have included two student members.

Admissions Committee: This committee sets general admissions policy and evaluates a small subset of applications that are referred by the Associate Dean for Admissions for further evaluation. The great majority of applications are evaluated solely by Admissions Office professionals. The committee will meet as needed, usually 2-3 times per year, and most of this committee's work takes place in the spring. Membership is limited to third-year students.

Budget Advisory Committee: This committee advises the Dean on budget priorities for the upcoming fiscal year. Students hold advisory [non-voting] positions on this committee and meet annually with the full committee.

Convocation Committee: This committee participates in selection of student Convocation Speakers.

Curriculum and Adjunct Appointments Committee: This committee addresses course subjects offered, teaching methods, and graduation requirements. It approves the addition and deletion of courses in the curriculum. The committee also recommends new adjunct faculty appointments to the faculty, and convenes up to twice each academic year.

Diversity Working Group Committee: This committee examines policy issues to promote diversity at the Law School. One Student Representative is chosen by the SBA, and one Student Representative is chosen by the ALSA Selection Board comprised of representatives from APALSA, BALSAs, CoLR, LaLSA, Law Women, MELSA, OUTLaw, and SALSA. The committee is convened at the invitation of the chair.

Executive Committee: This committee is composed of faculty, students, and administrators and rules on student petitions regarding grades and other academic matters. It also reviews academic policies, suggests changes in policy to the faculty, and awards graduation prizes. The committee does not review faculty members' academic judgment about the quality of student work or the appropriate grade for the work. The faculty members of the committee also conduct investigations of allegations of violations of the disciplinary rules. The committee convenes on an ad hoc basis with rolling communications electronically. The committee also meets several times in the spring semester to select the recipients of graduation prizes.

Student/Faculty Committees

Personnel Committee (Lawyering): This committee recommends candidates for Lawyering Instructor appointments. Students participate in interviews of candidates over approximately six days in November, December, and January.

Personnel Committee (Academic): This committee recommends academic faculty appointments, promotions, and tenure. Students hold advisory (non-voting) positions on this committee to provide input on entry-level faculty candidates on an ad hoc basis.

Career Services: This committee discusses and guides the policy of all career services offices. The committee meets once per semester or as convened by the chair.

Preparation for Academic Careers Committee: This committee supports students interested in academic careers. Students hold advisory (non-voting) positions on this committee.

Symposium Funding Committee: This committee considers applications from student organizations to fund symposia. Work centers primarily on spring semester applications and involves 3-6 meetings.

Student Bar Association (SBA) Groups

STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION (SBA) GROUPS

The Student Bar Association is the student government of the JD and Graduate programs at NYU School of Law. Its governing body is the Board of Governors, which consists of six executive officers (president, vice president, treasurer, secretary, student senator, and social chair), the student senator, four representatives from each of the first-, second-, and third-year classes, a 2L transfer representative, and three LLM representatives. The executive officers and the student senator are elected by all full-time students, while the class representatives are chosen by their respective classes. All full-time students are automatically members of SBA and are eligible to serve as at-large members on its Standing Committees: Finance, Social, Student Groups, and Rules. These committees, which are either provided for in the SBA Constitution or established by the President, deal with numerous aspects of student affairs. These committees and the Board of Governors bear responsibility for the general operation of student affairs.

The Board's activities include:

- Representing student concerns to the faculty and administration
- Sponsoring a variety of educational, social, and cultural events
- Serving as the central administration for the funded student organizations
- Appointing and coordinating student membership on Student/Faculty committees
- Co-sponsoring events with student organizations

List of Student Groups and Organizations

LIST OF STUDENT GROUPS AND ORGANIZATIONS

All non-publishing student organizations are chartered with and receive their financial assistance from the Student Bar Association. The SBA's most important function, however, is to serve as student representative in their relations with the faculty and administration. Following is a list of the 2015-16 SBA Student Organizations at NYU School of Law.

*Groups with an asterisk (*) are involved in the Student Group Mentoring Initiative for 1L students and anyone interested. More information about these groups is provided on pages 34-36. ### STUDENT GROUP PUBLICITY AND POSTING POLICIES

The Office of Student Affairs Weekly Docket Postings

The Docket is a weekly email that you will receive each Monday. The Docket contains communications from the various Law School administrative offices. It is extremely important that you diligently read this weekly missive as it contains information on upcoming events throughout the Law School as well as important deadlines. The full Docket can also be found at blogs.law.nyu.edu/docket.

Posting in the Docket: Following your Law School calendar entry submission, please email the Office of Student Affairs at law.studentaffairs@nyu.edu with your calendar link. You MUST submit a calendar link to be considered for the Docket. Submissions must be received TWO WEEKS BEFORE the scheduled event in order to be published in the Docket.

Events This Week at NYU Law is a complement to The Docket and lists all events for that particular week automatically drawn from the Law School Calendar.

E-signs for student group events are administered through the Office of Student Affairs. To ensure there is enough time to create your slide and incorporate it into the queue, you must submit the following information by email to tracee.nwafor@nyu.edu at least TWO WEEKS BEFORE your scheduled event:

- Sponsoring group name

Law Journals and the Moot Court Board

LAW JOURNALS AND THE MOOT COURT BOARD

NYU School of Law sponsors publications that base selection of their staff on scholarship and a writing competition. Staff members are matched to a journal or Moot Court Board during the summer following their first year of Law School. Specific details of the selection process will be distributed to first-year students at the end of the spring semester and to incoming transfer students just before the beginning of the fall semester. Third-year editors may receive credit for their work on a publication during the year they serve. Graduate students are also eligible to participate on certain journals; while they do not receive academic credit for journal work, they can have membership on a journal noted on their transcript. JD and graduate students can also write notes for journals, but must register for Directed Research in order to earn academic credit for the note.

Frequently Asked Questions

ATTENDANCE VERIFICATION FORMS

Q: Where do I submit a form from my employer (or other source) seeking verification of attendance at the Law School?

A: The form to verify Law School attendance can be sent directly to the Office of Records and Registration or to the University Registrar Office. The student has the choice to pick up the form or to have it sent directly to the employer.

CAREER SERVICES/PILC

Q: I am a 1L; when I will learn more about the job search?

A: NALP (the National Association for Legal Professionals) guidelines prohibit first-year students from meeting with career services professionals regarding the summer job search before October 15th to allow students to focus their attention on their academic work during their first few months of school. The guidelines also mandate that employers may not consider first-year students' applications for employment prior to December 1. Both Career Services and PILC will offer extensive support during your search. Look out for notices of meetings and other opportunities.

DISABILITY (LONG- AND SHORT-TERM)

Q: If I have a long-term disability and need to obtain information about accommodations, where should I go?

A: New York University complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which prohibits organizations from preventing an otherwise qualified individual with a disability access to participation in their services, programs, and activities. Anyone with a disability should visit or call the Henry and Lucy Moses Center at New York University. The Moses Center is qualified to assess the nature of the request and, if appropriate, will recommend accommodations.

Q: What is the procedure?

A: New law students who have a disability are strongly encouraged to make an appointment and register at the Moses Center before the fall semester classes begin. The Moses Center will discuss policies and procedures as well as establish an appropriate accommodation plan. Afterwards, the Moses Center will work with Academic Services (if the accommodation is exam-related) or Student Affairs to determine the plan. You will need to contact the Moses Center each semester to update your plan.

Q: How do I contact the Moses Center?

A: Henry and Lucy Moses Center for Students with Disabilities
726 Broadway, 2nd Floor
New York, NY 10003
Telephone: (212) 998-4980
mosescsd@nyu.edu
nyu.edu/csd

Q: Is there a deadline to register at the Moses Center?

A: Students (new and continuing) should register no later than the end of the third week of classes for each semester. A student's failure to register at the Moses Center on a timely basis may result in forfeiting an accommodation request for the semester.

Q: If I experience unanticipated illness (physical or mental) during the semester and need assistance, what should I do?

A: Contact the Office of Student Affairs as soon as possible for information and assistance. We will also work with you to devise a plan to manage your studies and will contact your professors (provided you submit medical documentation). Depending on the nature of the illness, it may be appropriate to refer you to either the Moses Center or Counseling Services.

Q: If I need an accommodation during the exam period and I have a Disability Verification Letter from the Moses Center, what should I do?

A: All students with disabilities who need accommodations must register with the Moses Center for Students with Disabilities to provide appropriate verification of their disabilities. Students who require special exam accommodations also must submit a request for each of their exams via Exam Reporter (examreporter.law.nyu.edu/). If you have any further questions about postponement requests, contact the Office of Academic Services.

Q: Should I talk with my professor about my need for accommodations?

A: In order to preserve anonymity in grading, students are asked not to discuss accommodations with the instructor in a course. If your question pertains to an exam accommodation and you have been in touch with the Moses Center, contact the Office of Academic Services. If you are not sure what actions to take or you simply want to discuss your situation, contact the Office of Student Affairs.

FINANCIAL ARREARS

Q: Can I register if I am in financial arrears?

A: Students may not be registered unless they have made full payment for all outstanding balances (tuition, fees, housing, etc.). Returned payment for insufficient funds or other declined payments will result in de-registration if not remedied within four business days. Students remain permanently ineligible to register for courses in any semester if, at the close of the add-drop period for that semester, they are in arrears for a prior semester. Any student in financial arrears for the Fall semester on October 31 will be dropped from all spring courses.

Q: Can I graduate if I have a financial obligation to the University?

A: It is the student's responsibility to make sure all accounts are cleared. A student who, at the time of graduation, is financially obligated to the University for tuition, housing (including summer housing after the final semester), library use (lost books or library fines of $60.00 or more), or other services will have a "Hold/Stop" placed on their account, will not be certified for state bar examinations, and will not have official transcripts or a diploma issued until all arrears have been paid.

Q: What if I am in financial arrears at the time of graduation?

A: A student who, at the time of graduation, is financially obligated to the Bursar for tuition, housing (including summer housing after the final semester), any NYU library or other departments will have a "STOP" placed on their account and will not be certified for state bar examinations, have official transcripts issued, or have a diploma issued until all arrears have been paid. It is the student's responsibility to make sure all accounts are cleared prior to June 10 since the deadline for some state Bars is July 1 and time is needed to process paperwork.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Q: What are the requirements for graduation?

A: Degrees from New York University School of Law are awarded in May, September, and January. In order for students to be eligible for the JD, LL.M., or JSD degree and sit for the appropriate bar examination, they must have completed all graduation requirements and submitted all required forms in a timely fashion.

Q: Will the Law School tell me if I am not meeting program requirements?

A: It is the student's responsibility to meet all program and graduation requirements. Completion of requirements includes having a grade recorded for every course for which the student has registered. All students must complete incomplete work from prior semesters no later than May 1 of their final semester. Students graduating in other semesters should contact the appropriate program office for the deadline. Students must complete all work from their final semester by the last day of the exam period for that semester. Students who have not met all graduation requirements, including satisfying all financial obligations, WILL NOT be certified for the Bar examination.

Q: How will I receive my diploma?

A: The processing and mailing of diplomas is handled by the University Registrar. The diploma will be sent to the permanent address as provided by the student on Albert. The diploma cannot be re-issued if you would like your name to appear differently after it has been printed. A recipient of a May degree can expect to receive this diploma by mail in September.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE & WITHDRAWAL

Q: How do I obtain a leave of absence? How long can the leave of absence last?

A: Leave may be obtained for one or two semesters, with the permission of the Dean of Students (Furman Hall, 474). In order to be considered for a leave of absence, you must have completed at least one semester of law school, submitted a petition explaining the basis for your request, and completed the form here: law.nyu.edu/students/studentaffairs/leaveofabsenceandwithdrawals

Q: If I want to extend the leave of absence beyond two semesters, is that possible?

A: You must submit a petition to the Dean of Students, which will be forwarded to the Executive Committee. Please note that a leave of absence does not extend the five year period allotted for obtaining the degree. If you are an LLM student and need the degree to qualify to take the New York Bar Exam, the LLM program must be completed within 24 months of matriculation.

Q: When is the Executive Committee's permission required for a student to return to the Law School after being on leave?

A: Students who take a leave when not in good standing, fail to return to the Law School upon expiration of their leave of absence, or fail to maintain matriculation by interrupting their course of study without first obtaining a leave of absence may be readmitted to the Law School only by special action of the Executive Committee.

Q: Do I have any obligations while on leave to ensure my ability to return?

A: Students on leave of absence are charged mandatory maintenance of matriculation and services fees. These fees not only maintain your relationship with the University while you are away, but will also ensure that you continue to have access to university buildings and emergency room health coverage. The University Bursar's Office will issue you a bill for maintaining matriculation fees each semester. These fees must be paid in order to register for courses.

Q: What must be done in order to return after being on leave?

A: Students who take a leave while in good standing may rejoin the Law School subject to the regulations when they reenter, provided that they have previously applied for and received a leave of absence from the Dean of Students or the Executive Committee. It will be the student's responsibility to comply with all registration requirements during the semester prior to their return to the Law School. It is the student's responsibility to check their NYU email for updates on how to return from their leave of absence. In order to return you must state your intent to return, provide your University ID and NetID, and ensure all outstanding fees have been paid. Students on a medical leave must be evaluated by a clinician at Counseling and Behavioral Health Services at least 7-10 days before the date you plan to register.

Q: Can I be readmitted after withdrawing from the NYU Law School?

A: JD students who withdraw from the Law School (as opposed to taking a leave of absence) are not eligible for readmission. LLM students may re-apply through the Graduate Admissions Office.

Q: Can I receive a refund after I withdraw?

A: A student requesting a refund should write to the Office of Student Affairs, explaining the reasons for the request, indicating all courses to be dropped, and providing all necessary supporting documentation. Registration does not carry with it the right to a refund of tuition in cases of withdrawal. A request for refund of tuition must be made by letter, fax, or email. The date of receipt by the Law School of the request, not the last date of attendance in class, is considered the official date of the student's withdrawal. For more information, go to nyu.edu/bursar/tuition.fees. For the refund schedule, visit nyu.edu/bursar/refunds/index.html.

LIBRARY SERVICES

Q: How do I borrow books from the Law Library?

A: Library patrons must register at the circulation desk to activate the barcode imprinted on their student ID. All books are charged out at the circulation desk in the sub-basement of the library. Please wait at the desk to make sure that the books are charged in again before you leave. (law.nyu.edu/library/libraryservices/circulation)

Q: How can I locate library material?

A: All material in the library may be located by using JULIUS, the library's online catalogue.

Q: How long may I keep checked out material?

A: Most books are in the open stacks and may be borrowed for up to four weeks. Books charged out for four weeks may be renewed once over the phone and a second time in person if no one else has put a hold on them. Reserve materials may be borrowed on a two-hour basis during the day. Many reserve materials may be taken out overnight from 10:00 p.m. to 10:00 a.m.

Q: Are there penalties for returning materials after the due date?

A: Failure to return books or to pay fines in a timely fashion may result in delayed issuance of grades, transcripts, or diplomas and the inability to renew registration or to obtain certification for the bar examination.

STATE BAR EXAMINATIONS

Q: What do I do to find out about bar examination application requirements?

A: Consult the bar examination office for the city of your choice. The Office of Records and Registration also has some information on State Bar Exams. However, it is the student's responsibility to obtain applications and updated information. Check the website here for more information:

americanbar.org/groups/legal\_education/resources/bar\_admissions.html

Q: Does the Law School have any information about the New York Bar Exam?

A: Copies of the rules of the New York State Court of Appeals, containing complete details on admission to the bar, bar examination, required legal education, and the Character Committee, are available in the Office of Academic Services (FH 400) and the Office of Records and Registration (FH 400). The application forms for the New York State Bar Examination may be obtained from the New York State Board of Law Examiners at nybarexam.org.

Q: What is the process to acquire certifications from the Law School in order to complete my application for the Bar Exam?

A: If your state requires certification from the Law School, submit the necessary document to the Office of Records and Registration. In New York, the Office of Records and Registration is responsible for filling out the Certificate of Attendance upon request and mailing it to Albany. The handwriting sample is to be written by the applicant in the Office of Records and Registration and then signed by the Registrar. The State Board of Law Examiners imposes strict deadlines for applications to take the Bar Exam. Students who do not adhere to the deadline will not be able to sit for the Bar Exam.

Q: I will be moving to a temporary address while I study for the Bar Exam, should I provide the address to the Law School?

A: Yes, it is the student's responsibility to make sure that all contact information (e.g., address, phone number) is updated with the Office of Records and Registration up to the date of the Bar Exam.

STUDENT FILES

Q: What happens to my admission materials after I submit them?

A: Materials submitted by an applicant as part of the admissions process become the property of NYU School of Law. Student files are maintained by the Office of Academic Services (FH 400) and by the Records Office (FH 400). Students may have access upon request to materials in their files in accordance with the terms of Public Law 93-380 as amended. Transcripts issued by another educational institution are not released to or photocopied for students, nor are they released to or photocopied for other institutions. It is advisable for JD students to maintain among their personal papers copies of their undergraduate transcripts for use when needed. For LLM students, it is advisable to maintain among their personal papers copies of their law school transcripts (and translations, if applicable) for use when needed.

Q: I changed my address, what should I do?

A: The Office of Records and Registration (as well as university offices such as the Bursar's Office) must be able to access current address and other contact information to send important registration information, transcripts, and other materials to students and to contact students when necessary. Students are required to update all contact information on Albert (albert.nyu.edu).

Q: I am only changing my address for the summer, should I update the Law School's records?

A: Summer address changes can be made in Albert. Students are able to change their address multiple times in the system. Graduating students should make sure their address is updated by the last day of spring classes.

TRANSCRIPTS

Q: How do I request a transcript?

A: Requests for official transcripts require the signature of the student or alumnus requesting the transcript. A transcript may be requested in writing by either completing the form available in the Records Office, by faxing a signed letter to (212) 995-4523, or by email to law.registration@nyu.edu with a PDF attachment including the information below. You may also send a signed letter to the Office of Records and Registration, 245 Sullivan Street, Suite 400, New York, NY 10012.

You must include all of the following information:

1. Social Security or Student ID Number
2. Current name (and any name under which you attended NYU)
3. Current address
4. Date of birth
5. School of the university attended and for which you are requesting the transcript
6. Dates of attendance
7. Date of graduation
8. Full name & address of the person or institution to which the transcript is to be sent

Students may also request transcripts online at <http://www.nyu.edu/registrar/transcripts-certification/official-transcript.html>.

Q: How many transcripts can I request per semester?

A: The limit for official transcripts issued to a student is three. A request for more than three transcripts requires the full name and address of the college, university, prospective employer, or scholarship agency to which the transcripts will be sent. You can indicate in your request if you would like us to forward the transcripts to your home address, but we still require the name and address of each institution. There is no charge for academic transcripts.

Q: How do I obtain an unofficial transcript?

A: Unofficial transcripts are available at home.nyu.edu by using your NetID and password. Generally, a NetID is discontinued if not used after a month's time for security purposes, but it can be reactivated online. You can find the NetID assigned to you by visiting the NYU homepage and submitting your University ID (begins with "N") and date of birth. University IDs are displayed on official transcripts, student ID cards, or by submitting a formal signed request to the address above or to law.registration@nyu.edu. For more information regarding NetIDs and passwords, please visit nyu.edu/its/netid/.

VETERANS' BENEFITS

Q: I am entitled to veterans' benefits. Who should I contact?

A: The Office of Records and Registration will submit your VA form 22-1999 (enrollment certification) on request to the VA once you are enrolled in classes and have been billed by the Bursar. If you are a new student or have not requested benefits before, Records and Registration needs a copy of your current Certificate of Eligibility from the VA with your request. If you are a continuing student who has already submitted the copy, please notify Records and Registration before the beginning of the semester that you want to be certified for the coming semester. Since the rules regarding veterans' benefits are subject to change, you should visit the US Department of Veterans Affairs website at VA Website. The University also offers resources to veterans. Information may be found at University Registrar Resources.

VISITING STUDENT STATUS

Q: Can I study at another ABA-approved law school?

A: NYU School of Law JD students who wish to be visiting students at another ABA-approved law school must be third year students and request permission from the Office of Student Affairs, FH 474. Such permission is granted only in rare cases when there are compelling personal circumstances. NYU students spending their third year elsewhere must comply with all NYU School of Law graduation requirements. It is highly recommended that students complete all required coursework (Professional Responsibility, Constitutional Law, Substantial Writing Requirement) before visiting away.

If permission is granted to visit away, NYU School of Law will transfer up to 15 credits per semester towards the JD degree for coursework in which a grade of "C" or higher is earned. The specific number of credits accepted and course equivalencies will be determined by the Office of Academic Services. Students must submit a list of proposed courses to the Office of Academic Services prior to finalizing registration. In some cases a course description and/or syllabus will also be required to determine course content. For more information, email Academic Services at acadservices@exchange.law.nyu.edu.

WELLNESS

Q: There are times when I am struggling academically and personally. Sometimes I wonder whether I should stay in law school. With whom can I discuss these matters?

A: There are many people at the Law School to whom you can turn to discuss these personal issues. We recommend that you begin with the Office of Student Affairs. The staff in that office has a great deal of experience working with students on academic, personal, and career concerns. In addition, they will be able to connect you with a wide array of Law School and University resources to help you work through any difficulties you may be experiencing.

Q: At times, I wonder whether I should speak to a professional counselor. If so, how would I go about finding someone?

A: The University's Counseling Services are available to you. With over thirty clinicians, they offer a broad range of expertise to support your needs and have worked with both our JD and LLM students. Additionally, we have clinicians that are specifically designated to work with law students. To schedule an appointment, call (212) 998-4780. If you want to walk in without an appointment, go to the Wellness Center located in the Student Health Center at 726 Broadway (3rd and 4th floors). The Wellness Center also offers a 24-hour hotline at (212) 443-9999.

Q: Something has happened in my personal or family life that is impacting my ability to fully engage with my work. Is there someone I should tell?

A: Administrators in the Office of Student Affairs are available to meet with students dealing with illness, family emergencies, grief, or any other life experience that merits attention. If appropriate, we will work with you to find resources, communicate with faculty, and assist with exam accommodations.

Q: I am managing a condition that I think deserves a reasonable accommodation during the exam period. What should I do?

A: Anyone with a disability should contact the Henry and Lucy Moses Center for Students with Disabilities at New York University. They are located on the second floor at 726 Broadway. Call (212) 998-4980 or visit nyu.edu/csd/. Once you have registered with the Moses Center, they will work with the Law School's Office of Academic Services to determine the reasonable accommodations.

If you do not have a long-term disability but find yourself dealing with a temporary concern, contact the Office of Student Affairs at (212) 998-6658. They will be able to further advise you on appropriate next steps.
