

NYU SCHOOL OF LAW
SELF-GUIDED TOUR

Welcome to New York University School of Law. Founded in 1835, NYU Law has a record of academic excellence and national scholarly influence. We are delighted that you have decided to explore our law community.

VANDERBILT HALL (40 Washington Square South)

*Enter through courtyard on West Fourth Street/Washington Square South.

First Floor

- Seryl and Charles Kushner Student Lounge—A student lounge that houses student lockers and mailboxes.
- Law Library—One of the most extensive collections in the country, including online computer research systems. Use your nametag to gain entry and temporary access to the Law Library.
- Tishman Auditorium—The auditorium can accommodate up to 450 people for special events, conferences, and the annual Law Revue show.
- Greenberg Lounge—Used for law school events and receptions; the walls are adorned with the portraits of the school's past Deans.

Second Floor

- Golding Lounge—Law student lounge. Coffee, bagels, sandwiches, beverages, etc. are sold on weekdays during the academic year. This lounge also has a terrace overlooking West Third Street and D'Agostino Hall.
- Classrooms—First-year and upper-level classes are held in these rooms. Room 208 is a smaller, seminar-style classroom. All classrooms in this building are fully wired for internet use.
- Bulletin Boards—Student organizations and administrative offices post information for the law school community about events, meetings, and academic matters.

Third and Fourth Floors

- Faculty and administrative offices are located on these floors.

RESIDENCE HALLS

D'Agostino Hall(W. 3rd Street)/Mercer Hall(240 Mercer Street)

- Apartment style residence halls for both students and faculty. Also home to the law school's journal offices, student organizations, moot court board, and student bar association.
- Although individual rooms are not available for visits, the law school's Office of Residence Services is located in the lobby of Mercer Hall and is open to visitors.

* Please be sure that class is not in session or the private study rooms are not occupied before entering rooms.

FURMAN HALL (245 Sullivan Street)

First Floor

- Wilf Lobby—Directly inside the main entrance. A staircase to the Second and Third Floors is at the far right of the Lobby. The hallway to the near right of the Welcome Desk leads to the elevators.
- Room 110—An example of a small, seminar-style classroom. Seminar-style classrooms can also be found on the Second and Third Floors. All classrooms in the building are fully wired for internet use.
- Frank J. Guarini, Sr. and Caroline L. Guarini Study Lounge—A quiet student study lounge. Part of the site was once the home of Edgar Allan Poe during the time he published his famous poem “The Raven.”
- Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz Student Café—Law student lounge. Coffee, sandwiches, and beverages are sold on weekdays during the academic year.

Second Floor

- The John Sexton Student Forum—Informal student meeting place/lounge. Computer terminals with internet and printing access are available for students.
- There are three medium-sized classrooms and one large lecture classroom on this floor.

Third Floor

- The John Sexton Student Forum Balcony—Overlooks the Sexton Student Forum on the Second Floor.
- Group Study Rooms—Available for use by student study groups. Room 312 is an example.
- Flex Seminar/Court Rooms—Flexible seminar classrooms that can be reconfigured for Lawyering, Clinical, or Moot Court exercises; Room 328 is an example.
- There are several small and medium-sized classrooms on this floor, as well as administrative offices, including the Hauser Global Law School Program.

Fourth Floor

- Administrative Offices—Academic & Student Services (Room 474), Career Services (Room 440), Records & Registration, Student Affairs (Room 474), Student Financial Services (Suite 400), and the Public Interest Law Center (Room 430).

Fifth and Sixth Floors

- The Jacob Fuchsberg Clinical Law Center is located on the fifth and sixth floors.

NYU School of Law Campus

NYU School of Law Buildings

Vanderbilt Hall
40 Washington Square South
 D'Agostino Residence Hall
 (also home to various journals, programs, centers and institutes)
110 West Third Street
 Furman Hall
245 Sullivan Street
 Wilf Hall
139 MacDougal Street
 Mercer Street Residence
 (also home to student orgs)
240 Mercer Street
 Commentator
 (student newspaper)
240 Mercer Street

Other University Buildings

Elmer Holmes Bobst Library and Study Center
70 Washington Square South
 Coles Sports and Recreation Center
181 Mercer Street
 Martin and Helen Kimmel Center for University Life
60 Washington Square South
 Silver Center for Arts and Science
100 Washington Square East
 University Health Center
726 Broadway
 NYU Bookstore
726 Broadway
 Office for International Students and Scholars (OISS)
561 LaGuardia Place

*Access to the residence halls is restricted. Should you have any questions regarding law school housing, please feel free to visit the Office of Residence Life located in the lobby of The Mercer Street Residence.