Amount of the travel/lodging scholarship that you are seeking:

_____.

Because the Review needs to use its limited scholarship budget of $5,000 to help as many people as possible, the Review has had to set the following limits on eligibility for the scholarships:

(1) Scholarships have to be reserved for clinical faculty members at schools that do not provide any funds to clinical faculty to attend conferences.

(2) The maximum amount we can give any applicant is $500. In setting the amount that you request, please keep in mind that the Review needs to provide help to as many people as possible and therefore we have to depend on applicants to moderate their requests. If you live close enough to NYC that a hotel stay is not absolutely necessary, we hope you will forego asking for funds for lodgings. If you need to use a scholarship for a hotel stay, we hope you will limit it to a single night.

(3) The Review can only reimburse for flights (or train tickets) and the cost of staying in a hotel. We cannot reimburse for ground transportation, meals, or other expenses.

(4) You will need to save all receipts and submit them to the Review's business manager after the conference in order to obtain reimbursement.

When you submit this application and your scholarship request, you will also need to attach a mini-draft or prospectus, roughly three to five pages in length, of the article you intend to present at the workshop. The mini-draft or prospectus should contain the tentative title of the article and a short description of the main point or points contemplated by the article. A completed draft must be submitted by no later than August 31, 2023; the grant of a scholarship is conditioned upon submission of a substantially completed draft by this date.

Please e-mail this form and the attachments to Randy Hertz, NYU School of Law, at hertz@nyu.edu

Deadline for submitting this form and the attachments: June 15, 2023.
Scholarship applicants will be notified of the status of their application by the end of June.
